Morningstar Lifetime Mod 2015 NR USD

Investment Information

Investment Objective & Strategy

The Morningstar Lifetime Moderate 2015 Index Fund seeks to match the total return of the Morningstar Lifetime Moderate 2015 Index, before fees and expenses.

Each Fund is designed as a long-term investment option for defined contribution plan participants who expect to retire during or near the year set forth in the Fund's name. Each Fund consists of a diversified asset allocation portfolio investing in various asset classes included in its Index, including domestic and international equities, domestic and international fixed income, and inflation hedge assets.

The Fund was created for the collective investment of assets of eligible qualified retirement plans. Target-date funds have been on the market since 1994, but it took the Department of Labor's Pension Protection Act of 2006 to help them gain widespread market traction. That legislation designated these funds as a Qualified Default Investment Alternative within 401(k) retirement plans, which generally allows plan sponsors to place participants into an investment when they do not make their own investment elections.

Category Description: Target-Date 2015

Target-date portfolios provide diversified exposure to stocks, bonds, and cash for those investors who have a specific date in mind (in this case, the years 2011-2015) for retirement. These portfolios aim to provide investors with an optimal level of return and risk, based solely on the target date. Management adjusts the allocation among asset classes to more-conservative mixes as the target date approaches, following a preset glide path. A target-date portfolio is part of a series of funds offering multiple retirement dates to investors.

Investment Information

Investment Objective & Strategy

The Fund seeks to match the total return of the Morningstar Lifetime Moderate 2045 Index, before fees and expenses.

The Fund was created for the collective investment of assets of eligible qualified retirement plans. Target-date funds have been on the market since 1994, but it took the Department of Labor's Pension Protection Act of 2006 to help them gain widespread market traction. That legislation designated these funds as a Qualified Default Investment Alternative within 401(k) retirement plans, which generally allows plan sponsors to place participants into an investment when they do not make their own investment elections.

Category Description: Target-Date 2045

Target-date portfolios provide diversified exposure to stocks, bonds, and cash for those investors who have a specific date in mind (in this case, the years 2041-2045) for retirement. These portfolios aim to provide investors with an optimal level of return and risk, based solely on the target date. Management adjusts the allocation among asset classes to more-conservative mixes as the target date approaches, following a preset glide path. A target-date portfolio is part of a series of funds offering multiple retirement dates to investors.

Allocation of Assets as of 06-30-18

Target-date investment options typically invest in other investments and are designed for investors who plan to retire during the target date year. The investment's target date is the approximate date of when investors expect to begin withdrawing their money. A Target-date investment's objective/strategy typically becomes more conservative over time primarily by reducing its allocation to equity investments and increasing its allocations in fixed-income investments. An investor's principal value in a target-date investment option is not guaranteed at anytime, including at the investment's target date.

Morningstar Lifetime Agg 2015 NR USD

Investment Information

Investment Objective & Strategy

The Morningstar Lifetime Growth 2015 Index Fund seeks to match the total return of the Morningstar Lifetime Aggressive 2015 Index, before fees and expenses.

Each Fund is designed as a long-term investment option for defined contribution plan participants who expect to retire during or near the year set forth in the Fund's name. Each Fund consists of a diversified asset allocation portfolio investing in various asset classes included in its Index, including domestic and international equities, domestic and international fixed income, and inflation hedge assets.

The Fund was created for the collective investment of assets of eligible qualified retirement plans. Target-date funds have been on the market since 1994, but it took the Department of Labor's Pension Protection Act of 2006 to help them gain widespread market traction. That legislation designated these funds as a Qualified Default Investment Alternative within 401(k) retirement plans, which generally allows plan sponsors to place participants into an investment when they do not make their own investment elections.

Investment Information

Investment Objective & Strategy

The Morningstar Lifetime Growth 2040 Index Fund seeks to match the total return of the Morningstar Lifetime Aggressive 2040 Index, before fees and expenses.

Each Fund is designed as a long-term investment option for defined contribution plan participants who expect to retire during or near the year set forth in the Fund's name. Each Fund consists of a diversified asset allocation portfolio investing in various asset classes included in its Index, including domestic and international equities, domestic and international fixed income, and inflation hedge assets.
